- All-round Carefree Packages: Excellent exhibitor and visitor services
- NewcomerArea: Targeted support for innovative companies
- InsightsArena: Getting involved at the popular Activity Area

Since its debut in 2015, Insights-X has been growing on an international scale whilst focusing on providing a personal service. Trade visitors can experience for themselves the dynamism of this friendly stationery expo when it opens its doors from 4 to 6 October 2018. Perfectly timed for placing orders for the new season, the trade fair gives visitors an ideal opportunity to gain valuable insights into a diverse range of office, back-to-school and hobby products in Halls 1, 2 and 3 of Nuremberg's exhibition center. So far, 269 exhibitors from 38 countries (as per: 30 May 2018) have registered to take part. Featuring home-grown and international start-ups, the NewcomerArea will be a worthwhile destination for all attendees. The InsightsArena, on the other hand, invites visitors to try out the latest innovations and trends from all six product groups, whilst offering a Quiet Zone for networking in a relaxed setting. A wide selection of exhibitor and visitor services provided by organiser Spielwarenmesse eG contribute to the overall success of the fair.

Reputed newcomers

Last year's event saw 305 suppliers from 41 countries present their ideas to 5,578 trade buyers from 99 countries. The international share was particularly high, with 56 percent of exhibitors and more than 48 percent of visitors wending their way to Nuremberg from abroad. Ernst Kick, CEO of Spielwarenmesse eG, states: "Companies see the autumn timing, the personal atmosphere and our tailored services as decisive factors for participating in the fair." The leading players in the stationery field wholeheartedly support the modern trade concept, which fills an area of 26,500m² and is set to feature several well-known newcomers. The "Stationery and Gift Articles" segment, for example, is poised to welcome AvanCarte, one of the leading suppliers of greetings cards and gift packaging, Filofax, specialising in personal organisers, and the Irish company Hartley & Marks Publishers, well-known for its Paperblanks brand. Pelikan is a reputed newcomer to the "Writing Utensils and Equipment" segment, whereas Olmar from Portugal is presenting its product spectrum in the "Paper and Filing" sector.
